Subject: Re: undefined procedure problem
Posted by Martin Schultz on Tue, 22 Jun 1999 07:00:00 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Kristine Hensel wrote:
>
> rmlongfield@my-deja.com wrote:
>>
>> In article <376AB0B8.5B494851@ucar.edu>,
>> Kristine Hensel <hensel@ucar.edu> wrote:
>>> Hi,
>>>
>>> I'm having trouble with IDL compiling a procedure and then telling me >>> that the procedure is undefined:
>>
>>
>> Just checked CW_FORM and it expects a function. Is your event handler >> defined with PRO or FUNCTION?
>>
>> Rose
>>
>
> Oh, Rose, you are very clever. I did have my event handler defined as a > procedure. I just changed it to a function, and I got a different error > message, so that's something.
>

One last idea: try to include a FORWARD_FUNCTION statement now that you have a function. If it works, you can consider yourself an expert on CW_FORM and you will probably receive a lot of questions about it ;-)

Cheers,
Martin.

--

||||||||||||||||\\\\\\\\\\\\\\\----------////////////// //||||||||||||||||
Martin Schultz, DEAS, Harvard University, 29 Oxford St., Pierce 109, Cambridge, MA 02138 phone (617) 496 8318 fax (617) 495 4551
e-mail mgs@io.harvard.edu web http://www-as/people/staff/mgs/