Subject: IDL Programming Course Price Reduction

Hi Folks,

Several people who have thought about coming to my upcoming regional IDL Programming Techniques course in Columbia, Maryland have commented that they thought the price was a bit high.

Since I never wanted to get rich (just famous :-) teaching IDL programming courses, I've decided to lower the price. The cost is now $995/person and $500/person for students. You can get details about the course and a course registration form from my web page. I don't think you will find comparable technical courses anywhere near these prices.

Best Regards,

David
