Hi Folks,

Phil Williams of Children's Hospital in Cincinnati writes me that all is well except that his new job doesn't give him nearly enough time to play with IDL.

Unfortunately, Phil had a computer security breach at the hospital and has lost access to his web and ftp sites. He has also lost the ability to post to newsgroups temporarily. Since Phil is the temporary keeper of the idl and idl-shell emacs modes, he wanted to me alert you to his situation.

He is also looking for someone else to host these emacs files. He says its a pretty easy job and really only needs an ftp site. I'd do it but my wife told me if I took on one extra job before I had my book finished that was it, she was out of here! She's a damn good wife. I would hate to lose her. :-)

You can contact Phil at phil.williams@CHMCC.ORG.

Cheers,

David
