How many people are planning to sign up for the maintenance contract and upgrade to IDL v3.1? I would do it if I only had one machine but I can't justify $1000/yr for our four machines when v3.0 does most of what we want (As an aside are there any features of v3.1 that are particularly useful?) and I can't maintain different versions on the different machines (because of compatibility considerations).

While RSI's rate is not unreasonable, it gets too expensive for multi-machine sites.
