I have a 3D image array containing a series of clusters of pixels of value 1, in a sea of value zero pixels.

Has anyone an idea on how to produce an algorithm to count the number of pixels in each of these clusters?

Many thanks.

John Dickson