Subject: Re: Help with constrained fit in IDL
Posted by on Tue, 23 Jun 1998 07:00:00 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Hi all,

I am sorry for posting the last issue in HTML - format.
maybe some of you could not read the message, so I posted it again - in plain text this time.

Heiko

> George A. Lengel wrote:
>
>> Hi all,
>>
>> I have written some IDL code to fit our data with a power law and it >> works fine. Now I am trying to constrain the fit to use a specific >> value
>>
>> of an exponent and only vary the factor in front of the expression.
>> I >> cannot get this to work properly, and I think it should be simpler >> than I am making it out to be. I figure this is due to my relative >> inexperience with the FUNCT keyword and how the data fitting is done >> in IDL. Can anyone give me a hint for proceeding with performing a >> fit
>>
>> to data that constrains one of the factors to a specific value?
>>
>> Thanks for any pointers that are given.
>>
>> --
>> George Lengel mailto:lengel@lps.umd.edu
>> Laboratory for Physical Sciences OR mailto:lengel@glue.umd.edu
>> University of Maryland
>> I certainly do not speak for LPS or UMd in any capacity***
>
> Hi George,
>
> we have modified the Curvefit from IDL, so that you can fix paramters > to a specified value.
> The result is, that you need only one Fitfunction-procedure for your
> fit
> instead of defing a new procedure for every set of free parameters.
> Furthermore we corrected the curvefit-procedure in some points.
> E.g. the errors for the parameters are now the correct ones, also you > have a correlation matrix as output.

> Send an email to me, if you want to get my curvefit-routine.
>
> Heiko
> --
>
> Heiko Hï¿½nnefeld
>
> HASYLAB / DESY

Notkestr. 85
22603 Hamburg
Tel.: 040 / 8998-2698
Fax.: 040 / 8998-2787
> e-mail: hhuenne@desy.de
>
>
>
