Attention PV-WAVE users!

Research Systems is now offering a limited-time IDL Trade Up Program. This program gives all current PV-WAVE users the opportunity to upgrade to IDL, the flagship data analysis and visualization environment from Research Systems. IDL offers a compatible language plus features like an integrated development environment, OpenGL-based graphics, and much more. Now, you can upgrade your existing PV-WAVE license to IDL with special, limited time pricing.

The "Trade Up To IDL" web page at http://www.rsinc.com/tradeup describes many of the exciting new features added to IDL 5.0 and 5.1 that make this data visualization leader a tremendous value. For example, IDL users not only get the same traditional Direct Graphics found in PV-WAVE, but also the OpenGL-based Object Graphics for powerful interactivity. To take advantage of the IDL Trade Up Program, contact sales@rsinc.com or visit the Trade Up To IDL web page at http://www.rsinc.com/tradeup for pricing.

Trade up now to the power of IDL!