oops. i was WRONG.

i was thinking of the SAVE command when i said that /XDR is listed as obsolete, not the OPEN command(s).

i had been using OPENW,/XDR along with OPENR (no /XDR) on Sun Solaris in my app for a long time with no ill effects. (it just happens that /XDR is the default for Solaris.) when i ported to Linux, my error became apparent.

i'll take my crow basted in a light vinegarette with a dollop of cream and garnished fresh basil and served with wild rice and forest shallots.
