
Subject: Re: Robust curve fitting
Posted by Craig Markwardt on Mon, 03 Aug 1998 07:00:00 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Another point to mention. These MINPACK routines work under both IDL versions 4 and 5.

Craig

>
> I recently had an opportunity to translate the MINPACK-1 curve-fitting > package into IDL. MINPACK is a minimization package available from > netlib, and has an excellent reputation. I have found that it is much > more robust, able to cope with singular matrices, etc. Since people > have been requesting, I polished it up a little bit, and am making it > available via my IDL web page:

>
> <http://astrog.physics.wisc.edu/~craigm/idl/idl.html>
>

--

Craig B. Markwardt, Ph.D. EMAIL: craigmnet@astrog.physics.wisc.edu
Astrophysics, IDL, Finance, Derivatives | Remove "net" for better response
