
Subject: Re: executing a .sav file by double clicking it.
Posted by wonko on Tue, 11 Aug 1998 07:00:00 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

hortwh@matthey.com (Werner Hort) wrote:

> how do I create (on a windows platform) a .sav-file that I can execute > by simply double clicking it. E.g. I'd like to avoid starting up > idlde. There are a few files like that in the demo-directory, but I > can't figure out how to do it. I have tried the following:
>
> .compile widget
> resolve_all
> save,/routines,filename= 'wid.sav'
>
> This creates the desired file, however, after double clicking on it > idlrt starts up and then exits again. What do I have to do to get my > widget to start up?

I think you need a procedure MAIN in your program, which idlrt then executes.

Alex

--

Alex Schuster Wonko@weird.cologne.de PGP Key available
alex@pet.mpin-koeln.mpg.de