
Subject: Scientific Programmer position available
Posted by A. Maudsley on Mon, 10 Aug 1998 07:00:00 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

We have an opening available for a programmer to develop signal processing and image processing applications, chiefly using IDL. This work will support research into clinical applications of NMR spectroscopy, and is located at the VA Medical Center in San Francisco.

Qualifications for this position could be almost anything from BS to PhD in engineering, physics or related field.

For more information, please email maudsle@itsa.ucsf.edu

Thanks
Andrew
