Subject: Re: sec_to_dt has gone missing!
Posted by G. Scott Lett on Fri, 30 Oct 1998 08:00:00 GMT

Nigel and others:

I checked an old 5.1 disk, and it WAS missing. I also found sec_to_dt on the Research Systems ftp site, under /pub/idl_5.1/updates/sec_to_dt. The README.TXT file explains that it was missing from the distribution.
Apparently, you can download sec_to_dt.pro if you don't want to upgrade to IDL 5.1.1.

Best wishes,
Scott

Nigel Wade wrote in message <3638A6E6.5AA75AF1@ion.le.ac.uk>...
> Hi,
>
> In the documentation for IDL 5.1 the function SEC_TO_DT is mentioned.
> When I try to use it, it doesn't exist.
>
> I've searched the installation directories and can find no mention of > this function anywhere except in the documentation.
>
> Does it really exist? Has anyone got it in their distribution?
>
> --
> ---
> Nigel Wade, System Administrator, Space Plasma Physics Group, >   University of Leicester, Leicester, LE1 7RH, UK
> E-mail :   nmw@ion.le.ac.uk
> Phone :   +44 (0)116 2523568, Fax : +44 (0)116 2523555