Subject: Re: Dumb Dumb Question
Posted by Richard G. French on Tue, 17 Nov 1998 08:00:00 GMT

> Does this mean no IDL procedure will ever work if one keyword is a left > substring of another keyword? Can I force IDL to interpret the "x" as "x" > and not an ambiguous abbreviation for "x2"?
>
> --

I KNEW that I had run into this problem awhile ago, and I posted something about it, but I did not realize at the time that the problem was the left substring. I'm quite sure this is what happened to me.
Thanks for restoring my sanity on this one, since I could not find the code segment that had caused the problem and I was unable to reproduce it.
Dick French
Wellesley College