The thread has turned to emacs vs idlde.

I'm also using (x)emacs on unix and idlde on NT, however I prefer xemacs (and the development under unix). Idl under the latter behaves IMHO more reasonable.

Still I would appreciate to get some improvements of idl.el and idl-shell.el e.g. the color-coding of user and inbuilt procedures and a key for 'widget_control,/reset&heap_gc&close,/all&retail '.
