Subject: Re: Synchronising Unix and NT IDL's Posted by R.Bauer on Tue, 24 Nov 1998 08:00:00 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

philip aldis wrote:

- > Hi. I'm running IDL on Unix, on a network with a floating license. I
- > then run IDL using my PC which has NT while running exceed. However I've
- > also set up IDL for windows on my PC, which I prefer to work in because
- > it looks nicer. I've set up a system variable LM LICENSE FILE, to tell
- > it where to look on the network for the license and this works fine.
- > However I really would like to synchronise my files so that whichever
- > one I am on, I am using a common set of program files so that when I
- > update the files and then use the other version, the files are updated.
- > I don't want to spend half my working time using ftp! It would be
- > preferable really if the files were kept on the network, because that's
- > where all the data is.
- Also would it be possible in programs that are running on windows,
- > to get IDL to look on the network for data. I realise that I may be
- living in a dream world, but I imagine that others must have had a
- > similar problem.

> cheers,

> Phil Aldis

I am using a samba Service on the unix Workstation. With this service I am able to store all my sources on the unix from a PC or from a workstation

R.Bauer