Subject: Re: segmentation
Posted by L. Charles Burgwardt on Mon, 18 Jan 1999 08:00:00 GMT

I just used the LABEL_REGION function included in IDL with good success. My background had some variation in brightness but was distinctly differenct in the image histogram, so thresholding was easy. If you can get good thresholding, label_region may work for you. Read the help page on the function.

Charlie Burgwardt

Jonas wrote:

> Hi y'all
> I'd like to perform some segmetation in an image. Have someone written a > nice procedure (I know you have) for segmentation of a structure > superimposed on a backgruond with varying intensity.
>
> greetings
> Jonas