Hi. Although this was not originally intended for users outside my department, it seems a lot of folks from all over are now using my browse page, so I guess I might as well announce that I've finally (mostly) updated the IDL library browser at

<http://www.astro.washington.edu/deutsch/idl/htmlhelp/>
after considerable stagnation. I'll try to keep it more up-to-date in the future. If you'd like to suggest the addition of other libraries or have other comments which might make the facility more useful, drop me a note. I've included most of the libraries I could find by rummaging around the Web. A few biggies are missing since I'm low on disk space. I'll get around to them soon.

Hope this helps.

regards,
Eric
