I'm currently playing with IDL and trying to persuade my department to purchase a copy. It doesn't seem to want to maintain its images in X Windows. The charts go to the graphics window initially, but they will never be updated, even to the point that if the window is minimised when you plot initially the chart will not appear when you maximise.

Is this a problem with the demo mode (IDL 5.1 BTW), in which case I think its bringing cripple-ware to a whole new level, or can I expect it to persist even if we invest in the package.

TIA

Steven
