
Subject: Re: X windows problem

Posted by Liam Gumley on Fri, 30 Apr 1999 07:00:00 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Raffaele Pelosi wrote:

> I've problem with my operating system Linux. When I digit at prompt
> "insight" there is this message:
> % Restored file: INSIGHT.
> % Unsupported X Windows visual (class: StaticGray, depth: 0).
> Substituting default (class: <UndefinedVisual>, Depth: 0).
> % Execution halted at: INSIGHT
> % $MAIN$
> On my portable machine I've Linux SuSe 6.0
> How can I resolve this problem?

The 8-bit and 24-bit visuals are safe for IDL to use (PseudoColor and TrueColor).

% xdpiinfo

should tell you the default visual, and what visuals are available.

Liam E. Gumley

Space Science and Engineering Center, UW-Madison

<http://cimss.ssec.wisc.edu/~gumley>
