This is a test message to this newsgroup originating from within the Goddard domain. I administer one of three news servers from within Goddard and I am testing the output functions. I also have received a writeup that posting to this newsgroup from within our domain has been unsuccessful.

This is a test and only a test. Readers are encouraged to reply to my email address here and at sgabriel@cne-odin.gsfc.nasa.gov. Your responses will verify my test is successful.

Of course, if I do not see a reply, then I can assume it failed.

Goddard Readers - You will be seeing this message from within our domain within a day or two. Goddard readers are also encouraged to rely using the local email address.

Gwyn this paragraph is for you - I am here testing and I'll let you know the outcome

Thanks everyone and I await your replies
