I got an e-mail recently from the RSI people that there is some new software called VIP Visual IDL Programming. I realise this hasn't yet been released (well not here in the UK anyway!), but does anyone have anything to say about it, good or bad. Has anyone had a look at any beta versions? Or am I the only one to know about it, because RSI knows I am not very good at programming and thus thought I would get excited about drag and drop programming!

Cheers
