

---

Subject: Question for MRI folks.

Posted by Peter Brooker on Fri, 24 Sep 1999 07:00:00 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

I suspect that a number of people in this group are using IDL to process MRI images. I was wondering if you might comment on what sort of detail and MRI could give? In particular, I have a shoulder that is prone to dislocating. They have taken x-rays but not an MRI. Would an MRI be able to resolve a stretched shoulder capsule vs a torn shoulder capsule?

thanks-Peter Brooker

---