: Don't know about the table widget. Don't use it. :-)

So what do you use to get a bunch of strings on the screen so that it looks like columns of text? Is the table widget overkill for doing this if I just want to display data and not have it be modified by the user?

: I once took a survey of the 10 best widget programmers I knew.

: I asked them how they size their text widgets. I got 10
