Hi all -

I've been going through the access logs for my site and note that quite a few people still retrieve the version of the FAQ before I converted it to the FileMaker version. I wrote a program a while back that converts the FileMaker version into something resembling the previous version.

You can retrieve that at the following URL

<http://www.ivsoftware.com/pub/faq/idl_faq_5.html>. I need to remove the links in the response headers, but otherwise it should be familiar to those who prefer the older version.
