Thanks Craig and Pavel,

your both answers solved the direct problem perfectly (and saved me a lot of time) - I originally intended to find a more general solution, as I receive these datafiles sometimes with resorted columns. I wanted to read the array automatically depending on the position of the corresponding characters in the header row.

(it might also be 'PPPPPP LLLLLLL YYYYY ...')

Probably it is far easier and faster to reformat the data beforehand than spending hours on this problem.

Michael
