
Subject: Re: calling a function in herself

Posted by promashkin on Mon, 31 Jul 2000 07:00:00 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Will FORWARD_FUNCTION do the trick? Or, try placing the new "COMPILE_OPT IDL2" instructuin at the beginning your code. It will enforce strict array subscripting using only [...], and anything with (...) will be considered a function.

Cheers,

Pavel

"JiĈ½rg Schliwa" wrote:

```
>
> Hy to all!
>
> I have a file with the main-procedure and some functions in it. When I'm in > the function e.g h_wahl I want to call the function h_wahl again. Is that > possible? When I compile the file, the expression h_wahl is not known in > h_wahl.
>
> e.g.
> ;procedure rasterung.pro
>
> Function H_Wahl(a,b,Steig=steig,Abstand=abstand)
>   If Keyword_Set(abstand) Then .....
>
>   If Keyword_Set(steig) Then Begin
>     ...
>     return, H_Wahl(c,d,/abstand)
>   Endif
> End
>
> pro rasterung...
>
> Any suggestions?
>
> Thanks in advance,
> JiĈ½rg Schliwa
```
