Nice pictures, Bernard. I noticed, however, that a user tends to get frustrated when there are more than 1-2 interactive alphanumeric fields in a GUI. They begin to mix up values, put strings into numerical fields and click randomly and frantically. I'd provide a map with crosshairs for Lat-Long, and sliders for local min and max. And of course, project name needs to default to the user's first name, and site name to "Kodak - RSI" :-)
Cheers,
Pavel
