
Subject: Re: PV-WAVE 7.00 GUI's
Posted by rkj on Tue, 17 Oct 2000 07:00:00 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Andy (andymcfee@andymcfee.plus.com) wrote:

: I am trying (not sucessfully) to implement a GUI using PV-WAVE...

: Has anyone done one? or does anyone know of where I can find a simple
: example of one (with maybe two or three seperate windows, and buttons)?

: I am having difficulty spawning and destroying windows correctly.

: Any ideas / help appreciated...

: thanks,

: Andy

: ajmcfee@dera.gov.uk

Probably the best way to start PV-Wave widget programming is by going through the example application in the GUI Application Developer's Guide (p. 217). There is a nice example program that does some simple image processing.

Stay away from VDA tools and stick with the Ww (Wave Widgets) layer.

Kyle J.
