
Subject: Fixed! Had to edit .emacs

Posted by amacphee on Tue, 24 Oct 2000 07:00:00 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Simply had to put in the auto load commands etc into the .emacs file
WHy didnt it say this somewhere obvious!

Andrew

In article <8t4gpk$fa8$1@nnrp1.deja.com>,
amacphee@my-deja.com wrote:

> Hi,
> I have been trying without success to get the xemacs package idlwave > working (IDL works fine).
>
> My machine is a pc with RH7 linux and cannot be connected to the > network. (I have to write files to a cd from another machiine and load > them from that.)
>
> How do I install it by hand? What files do I need to put where?
>
> When I add a directory in xemacs from whence to find the binary, the > package doesn't show up in the package list. I guess I must either have > the wrong file, or be pointing at the wrong directory.
>
> Thanks,
> Andrew
>
> Sent via Deja.com <http://www.deja.com/>
> Before you buy.
>

Sent via Deja.com <http://www.deja.com/>
Before you buy.
