Subject: Re: Preserving data with ROT
Posted by Ben Tupper on Wed, 06 Dec 2000 08:00:00 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

David Fanning wrote:

Well, then perhaps a wrapper around ROT is called for.

>
> My pleasure, but what is this "bbt" stuff? Is > your wife looking for you again. :-)
>
I think that btt be my evil twin!  And my wife need only look at the end of the leash. (To be fair - my wife is perfect just the ways she is... she has one of this retractable leashes.)

Actually the btt came about because I renamed my 'Macintosh HD' to a simpler name without spaces.  My identify was lost in the bowels of some preference file... well, next thing you know I had to start from scratch.  I have yet to figure out how to send mail (other than news.) Like installing Linux I guess. Just how gray is your hair getting anyway? Don't tell anyone, but I think I really hate computers.

>
> P.S. Let's just say I know its rude to our foreign > members to use baseball analogies, but this is the > only thing that comes to mind. I don't know why.
> I think my brain is fried. :-(

Hmm, so it was a baseball reference.  I didn't have a clue.  Some consider Mainers a wee-bit foreign from other Americans. (Note: not 'Maine-iacs', thank you very much, that name is reserved for the top-flight pilots out of the Air National Guard in Bangor.)

Thanks,

Ben

--
Ben Tupper
Bigelow Laboratory for Ocean Sciences
180 McKown Point Rd.
W. Boothbay Harbor, ME 04575
btupper@bigelow.org