Subject: Re: How to make a pie chart Posted by Med Bennett on Fri, 12 Jan 2001 14:43:13 GMT View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I would use Excel. Using IDL to make a pie chart is, well, kind of like using Excel to make a surface plot or contour map.

Norbert Hahn wrote:

- > Having written a large IDL program that gathers the data
- > and brushes them up I need to plot the results in a pie
- > chart. Using plot with /polar doesn't look pretty enough.

>

> Is there some other routine around that I may have overlooked?

>

> Norbert