I have a little program that I set-up a year ago.
It has a menubar, weith several options.
Underneath 2 new widgets: the left for some data entry, the right for visualization.

The problem is that I am trying to pick up where I left and it's very hard. I haven't touched IDL for over a year now.
Is there someone who would share a widget program source with me. (I'll exchange if necessary) that doesn't hang or act obscure. i.e. a stable version.

I am not interested in the functions or the arithmetic.
Only the backbone that it runs on.

Thanks in advance
