Craig Markwardt wrote:

> your best bet is to read the section on > confidence regions in Numerical Recipes, and then proceed to make a > confidence grid.

I tried to read that more than once. Well, after all I never said I am not brain dead. I ended up calculating my own confidence band stuff, and I try not to quote it unless I really have to :-(

Pavel