Folks,

I've been wondering why we haven't seen much of Liam recently, and I just discovered the reason. It seems Liam is home trying to save his marriage. :-)

I was poking around on the Barnes and Noble bookstore web page and ran into a new book by Liam entitled Effective Visualization Programming in IDL. It is suppose to be out soon. Congratulations, Liam!

And, rest assured, your home life returns to normal after about three years or so. Assuming the fame and fortune don't go to your head, of course. :-)

I'm looking forward to seeing it.

Cheers,

David
