Subject: Re: socket problems.. Desperate!
Posted by Brad Gom on Fri, 08 Jun 2001 19:45:42 GMT

ooh- thanks for the speedy replies. what a great newsgroup.

Craig Markwardt wrote:

>
> This looks like a name server problem. Are the DNS settings the same > between machines? The strange thing is that the hostname you gave is > an IP number already...
>

Thats the thing I don't understand. Here's the weirder part: I just tried opening an IDL socket using the real hostname (blahblah.physics.uleth.ca) and this works. I thought that it would choke for sure when given the hostname rather than IP.

So it looks like I have a workaround, but I don't think I'm any wiser.

Thanks

Brad Gom

File Attachments
1) brad.gom.vcf, downloaded 81 times