We are currently looking for upgrading our old PV-WAVE v4.00 and have had nice bids from both IDL and VNI (or whatever they are called these days). I understand (from FAQ) that IDL and PVWAVE are really the same product up to about v4.00 but since then things changed.

Can anyone enlighten me and explain what are the major differences in the latest IDL and PV-WAVE and (perhaps) which is better (not trying to create a religious war, really).

Thanks in advance.

dan
