I Just called RSI Tech support today and confirmed the news. IDL 5.5 will be supported on Mac OS
9.x. but OS-X support has stopped. Other items:

The tech help person was sympathetic, but suprised me by informing that they had received a total of 3 e-mails and 1 phone call (mine) on the matter so far. While all were passionate, that kind of response from a community will get exactly nothing. I would reiterate other posts to contact RSI (and Kodak) and state your case. I will be trying to contact Kodak next.

I asked the techs opinion and she said that the only real chance of re-instating the development would come if pretty much all Mac users of IDL (and better yet _potential_ mac users of IDL made their feelings known.

I am grateful to be back to mack after 5 years in the PC desert,and was eagerly awaiting native OS-X
IDL. My disappointment is rather keen.

So, have at it. Please.
