
Subject: Re: RSI Platform Support Announcement
Posted by Dennis Boccippio on Fri, 12 Oct 2001 14:13:21 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

In article <3bc3484c@news.nwl.ac.uk>, wmc@bas.ac.uk wrote:

> Matthew Powell <mpowell@rsinc.com> wrote:
>> be implemented following the releases of IDL 5.5, scheduled for release >> October 4, and ENVI 3.5, planned for October 22, of this year. These will be >> the last versions to support the following platforms:
>
>> Compaq Alpha Tru64 Unix
>
> Well thats a bit of a b*gg*r. Still, knowing us, we won't actually move up to > 5.5 for another year and it will last another few years and by then we'll > all be on linux anyway ;-)
>

Yeah, certainly makes me wonder how much longer IRIX will be supported.
Nice of a company to add a little nervousness to customers making mid-term hardware procurement decisions...

DJB
