Folks,

To do my patriotic part to stimulate the economy (I'm being sardonic, although I too have felt the difference since Sept. 11th), and because I get all weepy-eyed this time of year when I think of all the friendly folks on the IDL newsgroup, I have decided to put my IDL Programming Techniques, 2nd Edition book on sale through the end of the year at a 25% discount for everyone who orders from my web page (or who gives me a call).

(The truth is, I'm thinking about putting new carpet in my office and both my back and my wife have informed me it is better to sell this stuff than to move it.)

You can get the details at the usual place. :-)

Cheers,

David
