
Subject: Re: IDL data to Excel sheets?

Posted by jeyadev on Thu, 06 Dec 2001 20:58:15 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

In article <3C0FD9EE.CC1DBCE0@noaa.gov>,

Paul van Delst <paul.vandelst@noaa.gov> wrote:

> Ted Cary wrote:

>>

>> My employer wants the data in Excel format for both storage and visualization >> reasons. He and most of the students he employs here are already familiar with >> Excel, and he wants the data to be available in Excel workbooks so they can >> immediately start analyzing them without learning any new programs. It makes >> things more difficult for me as the programmer, but the logic is that the learning >> curve is not as steep for other students in the lab.

>

> Heaven forbid that students encounter a steep learning curve.... :o\

>

> I'm still confused tho' - your employer is using Excel to visualise/process images?? Is that > right?

I think that I can safely conclude that you have not worked in an American business :-)

> Paul van Delst Religious and cultural > CIMSS @ NOAA/NCEP purity is a fundamentalist
> Ph: (301)763-8000 x7274 fantasy
> Fax:(301)763-8545 V.S.Naipaul
                             ~~~~~~

That may explain the above mentioned situation better than I can.

--

Surendar Jeyadev        jeyadev@wrc.xerox.com

---