Someone sent me a different email address to try:
info@ResearchSystems.com. So I tried sending a message there.

First time - no response.

Second time - no response.

Currently attempting a third time.

I'm astounded that in three weeks I can't even get a single comment.
Compare this with Matlab, who I have also written to, who (i) have loads of contact address and (ii) replied on the same day each time I wrote.

Anyone else have a similar story or is it *just me* ?

Ciao.
