
Subject: Re: Urgent object question

Posted by Ted Cary on Wed, 23 Jan 2002 15:42:34 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

"David Fanning" <david@dfanning.com> wrote in message >

- > After a solid week of this we find that our ideas
- > always look wonderful about midnight. But not all
- > of them have survived the bright glare of morning. :-(
- > ... We are in the process
- > now of building a complicated enough system to test
- > whether it works or not.

Morning is almost over, and it still seems to be a good idea. If you want a not-so-complicated system to test, I can send you guys mine. I'm sure the boss would be happier if real programmers wrote my application. Hopefully you and your friends will publish the results on your web page, so that I will know what I've done wrong. Who's the "we" you speak of anyway--I hope you haven't started referring to yourself and your computer in the first person plural...
