I have a fairly complex widget program that has dynamically resizing parts.

Why is it that Event.X and Event.Y return values smaller than the actual form (base) size.

Not that you would need to but I should be able to set the form size to Event.X and Event.Y

When I do this the form shrinks. On my system it shrinks by 8 pixels in x and 46 in Y. This is different on other systems (maybe due to resolution etc.)

Anyone know what causes this and how to stop it?

Thanks,
