
Subject: Re: Legends on plots

Posted by Pavel A. Romashkin on Mon, 24 Jun 2002 16:40:55 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Have you tried Display?

http://www.ainaco.com/idl/idl_library/display.html

It has /Legend keyword and will create a legend that you can move around using right mouse button.

Pavel

P.S. Display uses OG but is capable of outputting the result to clipboard using /COPY /VECTOR keywords if you need publication quality output.

I.binks@shef.ac.uk wrote:

>

> Hello

>

> I am using IDL V5.3 on Solaris.

>

> I have multiple colour plots on a page

> I need to write the legend or key to the colours on the plot

> I am aware of the xouts subroutine to annotate a plot and I > have been trying to use it.

> My problem is computing the co-ordinates for placement. I want the > legend to appear in the upper left area of the plot. What frame of > reference can I use where multiple plots exist on one page and I > might want a legend on each plot?

>

> Look forward to any replies and thanks in advance for any help offered.

>

> Lesley
