

---

Subject: Re: newbie: multiple subarrays in array
Posted by Ken Mankoff on Mon, 15 Jul 2002 19:05:13 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

On Mon, 15 Jul 2002, David Fanning wrote:

```
> Ken Mankoff (mankoff@I.HATE.SPAM.cs.colorado.edu) writes:
>
>> You can access the sub-array like this:
>>
>> good = where( data NE -9999 )
>> data = data[ good ]
>
> Ken is absolutely right, but because you are a newbie,
> I feel an obligation to get you started in the right > direction. I would write the code like this:
>
> good = where( data NE -9999, count )
> IF count GT 0 THEN data = data[ good ]
>
> That will save you a couple of headaches down the road. :-)
```

Amen.

---