Subject: Re: WINDOW, /PIXMAP Question
Posted by James Kuyper on Tue, 22 Oct 2002 19:44:13 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Rick Towler wrote:

...
> The fix is to either always make sure you are logged in on your SGI when you > leave for the day or pick up X server software for your PC. We use WebTerm > X from PowerLan USA which works quite nicely. I think you might notice a > real slow down in this second approach since I would guess your pixmap data > would need to be transmitted to your local X server, then back when you grab > the image. But someone who uses X more than once a year can probably
> -Rick

My home machine is a Linux system, so the X support comes with the OS.
However, trying to do X over a 56K modem is horrible. I suspect you would need DSL or a cable modem to do it adequately. If had to telecommute very much, I'd have to upgrade to DSL.