Hi folks,

is there any application out there to translate IDL source code to C++ source code ? Even buggy solutions are welcome ,) ...

If there is no possibility right now, i'm going to programm eigher a full freatured (free !) translator or a set of classes/ librarys that'll allow easy rewriteing any IDL application within C++ . (helping hands and minds are more then welcome...)

thank you for reading and for any response,

Stefan
