
Subject: IDL dynamical widget resizing bugs under linux
Posted by Sandro Kan on Thu, 31 Oct 2002 14:57:29 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Im am trying to resize a text widget when the user resizes the base widget.
I have hear of some bugs, is it? I actually use 5.3; what about 5.5?

Here is an axample of my problem; thanks to all who will try to help me.

Alessandro Mura

...

```
pro prova2002_10_31_14_47
  w1=widget_base(uname='W1', scr_xsize=500, scr_ysize=500, $ /tlb_size_event ,space=3 ,xpad=3 ,ypad=3,mbar=wid_base_0_mbar) w2 = widget_text(w1, uname='wid_text_0' $
    ,xoffset=10 ,yoffset=10 ,scr_xsize=480,scr_ysize=480 $
    ,/scroll, /all_events , editable=0, /no_copy $
    ,value='Ciao a tutti; Hello world')
  widget_control, /realize, w1
  xmanager, 'W1', w1
end

pro w1_event, event
  wwidget=event.top
  xsize=event.x-20.      wwidget=event.top xsize=event.x-20.
  ysize=event.y-20.
  id=widget_info(wwidget,find_by_uname='wid_text_0')
  widget_control, id, scr_xsize=xsize, scr_ysize=ysize
end
```
