Hi,

I would like to know if anyone has a command which prints a string that overwrites the current line. The purpose is to update users what is going on during processing without producing a screen full of:

Processing data set 1

Processing data set 2

...

which is what PRINT,'Processing data set',i does. I think it must be possible after hacking through rdpix.pro, but I can't figure out how to do it :(

Ciao.
