Posted by Andrew Cool on Sun, 24 Nov 2002 23:55:31 GMT

Chris Mulliss wrote:
>
> Hello,
>
> This is not strictly an IDL question, but here goes...
>
> When I produce 24-bit color images in IDL (running on a SUN) and try to > display them on an SGI or Windows box, they tend to come out looking very > dark.
>

"Producing potable color images..."

Curious typo. portable -> potable

I've been known to drink in colour images of young ladies wearing not very much,
but seldom the sort of images that IDL generally pumps out.

Must be a pretty good program, Chris! ;-)

Andrew C.